Time flies. What a befitting idiom to describe the present situation as the Newsletter team has produced District 308-A2's Newsletter for the 9th time during this Lions fiscal year of 2020 to 2021.

I am glad that we were able to show our District's news and activities this fiscal year and we will continue doing so. Despite the regions in District 308-A2 going through waves of the Covid-19 pandemic at different times, it is touching that there are still activities from each region helping their communities. Also, well done to our District Governor Roland Chieng for managing to organise multiple District events and trainings in accordance with SOP.

I believe that the production of the District newsletters provides a platform for all the Lions in the whole District to receive our District's news and activities. Not only that, the District newsletters are also catalogued on the District website, as published by our Cabinet Secretary Terrence Chen. Thank you, CS Terrence! This provides an archive and precious memories for our District Governor Roland Chieng and his team, as well as for all the clubs in District 308-A2.

Additionally, the District newsletters may be easily accessed and read by other Districts and the public to show that as Lions, we strive to offer a helping hand to disadvantaged communities and to constantly improve oneself by attending trainings and events. District 308-A2's newsletters also showed District 308-A2 and other districts working together in trying to alleviate the burden of underprivileged people who have been struck hard by the pandemic. As the saying goes, "Where There is a Need, There is a Lion".

As we are drawing closer to the end of term, I would like to introduce the Newsletter team and to show my appreciation towards everyone who was involved in the production of the District newsletters.

First of all, I would like to take the opportunity to thank our District Governor Roland Chieng. All the information that he provided may be found everywhere in the newsletters. Being the adviser of the District newsletters, he would always give meaningful advice that helped tremendously in moving forward with the newsletters. I am very grateful to him for giving me the chance to learn and for always being very supportive. Not only that, I noticed that he is a very hardworking District Governor who always goes beyond of what is required.

Next, I would like to express my appreciation towards PDG James Teo for writing quality and interesting information every month in the Lions Information Column.

Furthermore, I would like to thank DC Jacky Tan for his assistance in working together in producing the newsletters. This was especially so in the beginning where production of the District newsletters was a steep learning curve for me.

Moreover, I am very grateful to Serine Wong, a friend of Lion of Lions Club of Sibu Pahlawan, as we work closely in also producing the newsletters. We have compiled information from Lions websites, emails from our fellow Lions and Leos, and from various social media platforms. We continuously strive to challenge ourselves by improving our newsletters every month. It is a treasure trove of learning opportunities. Hence, thank you to everyone on the Newsletter team for your great effort.

Finally, I would like to thank all the clubs for your support in reading the newsletters and sending in your information every month. I am also very appreciative of all the senior Lions' advice too. The production of the newsletters was not made by one person, but was achieved through everyone's support and effort. Thank you.

Lions' webinar on paediatric cancer attracts 80 participants

MIRI: Are cancers in children similar to those in adults? webinar on Saturday (March 27) attracted 80 participants from different parts of the state.

Organized by Lions Club of Kuching Allamanda in collaboration with CanHope Kuching sponsored by Parkway Cancer Centre, the webinar saw paediatric haematologist and oncologist Dr Anselm Lee sharing insights on paediatric cancer.

Dr Lee pointed out that common paediatric cancers are Hodgkin's Lymphoma, Acute lymphoblastic leukaemia, Non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, kidney tumours, brain tumour, neuroblastoma, bone tumour, muscle connective tissue tumours and acute myeloid leukaemia.

"Cancers in children are generally rare diseases. However, in terms of frequency, leukaemia is the most common type of cancer in children. In adults, the common types of cancers are lung cancer, breast cancer, colon cancer which almost never happens to children," Dr Lee explained, adding that development of cancer for children and adults differ too.

"Lung cancer caused by smoking takes more than 20 years to develop. If a child was exposed to cigarettes from birth, he or she wouldn't develop lung cancer during childhood. Therefore, all the risk factors for cancers in adults may be irrelevant to children cancer.

"Hereditary factors, on the other hand, accounts for less than two per cent of cancers in children. From the scientific perspective, we still do not know why the great majority of cancers happen in children. Symptoms of paediatric cancer can be variable too.

"Fever, aches in the knee, feeling of exhaustion, spending more time in bed, tripping and falling are some common signs and symptoms of childhood cancer."

"Even so, these are also common signs and symptoms for other childhood illnesses, or can happen from time to time to healthy children during bad day. Therefore, there is no exact explanation or fixed pattern for recognition," he added.

Meanwhile, the options for cancer treatment are similar for both paediatric and adults with fundamental differences in terms of outcomes.

Dr Anselm Lee

"If a cancer treatment could keep an adult aged 50 or 60 years old for another 10 years, the treatment is considered highly successful.

"But if a treatment can keep a 5 or 10-year-old child alive for 10 years, it is not a good treatment. A successful treatment must be able to give the child a chance to good future of growing up, completing education, finding a career and build a family," said Dr Lee who is proud of five former patients who have grown up to become medical doctors. The one-hour webinar was also attended by district governor of Lions Club International District 308-A2, Roland Chiang.

Chiang in his welcoming speech said that according to

A still photo of the webinar with Dr Lee (top left), Chiang (top centre), CanHope Kuching regional manager and counsellor Connie Tan (second row, left) and some participants.

World Health Organisation, about 400,000 new cancer cases are diagnosed each year among children aged zero to 19 years old.

"The recovery rates for children are much higher than for most adult cancers and over 60 per cent of all children can now be completely cured with proper, intense treatments.

Therefore, the webinar was a good opportunity to give insight to the local community as well as increase awareness on paediatric cancer," he added.

He thanked Lions Club of Kuching Allamanda, CanHope Kuching and Parkway Cancer Centre, Singapore for the collaboration.

Reasons Why Members Leave

LIONS INFORMATION
COLUMN
BY PDG JAMES TEO

Retaining/ Losing members is an issue for many clubs. Below are few areas that are most influential on why someone may leave a club: -

1. Too many disagreements, personality clashes, drama, cliques, too many politics, and not feeling respected by other members of the club.

2. Feeling like they are "Not making a difference". If clubs don't match members up with activities that they want to do, or if they feel as though their voice isn't heard, then even if the service is

WE CAN'T STOP
MEMBERS FROM LEAVING
UNLESS WE HAVE A PLAN TO MAKE THEM

great, they may not feel as though they made a difference.

3. Not having a "Sense of Belonging". If members do not feel like they belong, then they will not stay a member for very long. Everyone wants to feel valued. When people join clubs or an organization, they do so to be part of something and to contribute towards something. When they feel that their participation or efforts are not acknowledged, they begin to feel as though the organization they want to be part of doesn't appreciate them. As a result, they feel that leaving the club would be a better option.

4. Club no longer offers the satisfaction it once did, and its ability to adjust to the expectations of younger members.

Sometimes all a person needs is a hand to hold

and a heart to understand

5. Club is dominated and controlled by few members.

6. No meaningful service activities. Members feel their contribution and involvement are not worth the effort.

7. Club does not have enough project funds and administration funds to support their community services and activities.

Are you ready to take action?

Many clubs don't recognize their growth and retention problems if the number of members remains somewhat steady. Clubs that consistently lose members and compensate by inducting new members are not managing their growth or retention well. If your club is not focusing on growth and retention you may be headed for trouble. Getting new members and keeping current members is a sign of a club's stability and overall wellbeing. Make your membership growth and retention your club's top priority.
